

CAPTION COMPETITION

And the winner is...

The inaugural CVFR "Mid-Winter Madness Man Vs Midget" event was declared a draw, proving once and for all that size really does not matter

Well done to John Preston, who wins the prestigious accolade of Toddies Caption King, not to mention a lovely bottle of wine!

As you can see from the runners up below, it was a very tough decision...

- Come with me my tiny friend, I know a short cut back to Lilliput (Richard Blakeley)
- Its okay Alan we can hold hands now Jane is well in front (Dave Collins)
- Richard Leonard - fell running giant (Kath Brierley)
- Richard Leonard finds out why you should never wash fell runners on a boil wash (Colin Duffield)
- That Allan Greenwood, he's only half the fell runner he used to be (Paul Brannigan)
- One menace in the hand is worth two in the valley (Rhys Watkins)
- As captioned in the Hebden Bridge Times by our roving reporter: Rich Lender, a polish constable from Manyholes aged 59, just in front of Len Grinnard, a lithe sprinter from Walifax, aged 14 (Phi "Batman" Hodgson)
